DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/10/08 has been entered. In the RCE filed on 11/10/2008, the following have occurred: new claim 30 has been added and claims 1-30 are currently pending. The addition of a new claim 30 has introduced a divergent scope and utility into the claimed subject matter, and thus has necessitated the restriction requirement set forth in this office action.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-29, drawn to a method for generating an e-check, the method comprising: identifying check information that describes a bank and a bank account, wherein the check comprises the check information; the method further comprising: printing the amount on the check, classified in class 705, subclass 35.
- II. Claim 30, drawn to a method for generating an e-check, the method comprising: scanning, at a point of sale (POS) terminal, a check to create an image of the check in response to receiving a check as payment for a transaction, wherein the format of the image is a Joint Photographic Experts Group (JPEG) format, receiving, via a keypad at the POS terminal, a personal identification number (PIN); and entering a driver license number into the POS terminal, classified in class 705, subclass 16.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

- Inventions I and II are related as sub combinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The sub combinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I relates to a method for identifying check information that describes a bank and a bank account, wherein the check comprises the check information; the method further comprising: printing the amount on the check, whereas invention II has a divergent scope and utility of receiving, via a keypad at the POS terminal, a personal identification number (PIN); and entering a driver license number into the POS terminal. Hence invention I has a different utility and scope than invention II, and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II.

3. Since these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicants are advised that reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to OJO O. OYEBISI whose telephone number is (571) 272-8298.
